INTRODUCTION

This publication presents income distribution statistics for Manitoba on a regional basis for those tax filers aged 65 and over. The regions used in this report are the Official Regions for Data Collection (also known as Economic Regions) which are aggregations of the 23 census divisions as follows:

OFFICIAL REGION FOR DATA COLLECTION	ECONOMIC REGION	CENSUS DIVISIONS IN REGION
Southeast	60	1, 2, 12
South Central	61	3, 4
Southwest	62	5, 6, 7, 15
North Central	63	8, 9, 10
Winnipeg	64	11
Interlake	65	13, 14, 18
Parklands	66	16, 17, 20
North	67	19, 21, 22, 23

The income distributions have been developed from income tax records. The geographical coding of the tax data is based on the mailing address at the time of filing (usually January to April 1987). This is also the reference period for determining the age of the income tax filer for the purposes of these income distributions.

Definitions

Number of Taxfilers Aged 65 and Over is the total number of persons filing a 1986 income tax return who were at least 65 years old at the time of filing.

Total Income as reported to Revenue Canada on line 150 of the income tax return and as adjusted for tax purposes.

Employment Income is the sum of all sources of income associated with employment: T4 earnings, other employment income, professional, business, commission, fishing and farming.

Labour Force Income is the sum of employment income and unemployment insurance benefits.

For further information on these income distributions, or to provide comments or suggestions, contact David Greenwood at (204) 945-2989.

TOTAL INCOME: FILER DISTRIBUTION

Table 1 illustrates the distribution of filers aged 65 and over by Total Income and Economic Region.

Of all Manitoba filers aged 65 and over, 23,376 (19.4%) report total income of $2,500 - $4,999. The second largest group (21,727 filers or 18.1%) falls into the $10,000 - 14,999 category of total income.

The Winnipeg region has the highest number of filers with 67,934 (56.5% of Manitoba filers). Of these 67,934 filers, 14,737 (21.7%) fall into the $20,000 & Over category, 13,109 (19.3%) fall into the $10,000 - 14,999 category and 10,380 (15.3%) fall into the $5,000 - 7,499 category. Only 1,454 (2.1%) of Winnipeg filers report less than $2,500 total income.

The second highest number of filers aged 65 and over is in the Southwest region with 15,706. In this region, 3,090 filers (19.7% of region filers) report $10,000 - $14,999 total income. There are 3,026 filers (19.3%) present in the $5,000 - 7,499 category and 2,710 filers (17.3%) in the 2,500 - 4,999 category. Approximately 2.3% (355 filers) report less than $2,500 total income.

The North region has only 3,095 filers, giving it the lowest number of any region. Of these 3,095 filers, 1,358 (43.9%) report $2,500 - $4,999 total income, and 104 filers (3.4%) report less than $2,500 total income.

Average (median) incomes vary among regions, with the median total income for Manitoba being $9,425. Winnipeg is the only region having a higher average total income than the province as a whole, that being $10,836. The Southwest region ranks second with $9,419 and the North Central region ranks third with $8,989. Two regions have average incomes of less than $7,000: the Parklands with $6,325 and the North with $5,607.

DISTRIBUTION OF TOTAL INCOME

The Total Income distribution, of filers aged 65 years and over, by Economic Region is presented in Table 2.

For Manitoba, the greatest percentage of total income is reported by those filers in the $20,000 & Over category. This category accounts for $784.3 million, which represents 47.7% of the Manitoba total of $1,644.2 million.

The $10,000 - 14,999 category contains the next highest amount of reported income with $266.7 million (16.2%) while the $15,000 - 19,999 category contains $219.4 million (13.3%). For the remaining categories, the lower the income level, the smaller the contribution to the Manitoba total.

The highest amount of income reported for a region is the $1,051.8 million for Winnipeg. This represents 64.0% of the Manitoba total. The category with the highest amount of income is $20,000 & Over with $556.1 million, or 52.9% of the Winnipeg total. The lowest amount of income is reported in the $1 - 999 category with $0.24 million, or 0.02% of the Winnipeg total.

The next largest region in terms of total income is the Southwest with $202.9 million, which accounts for 12.3% of the Manitoba total. Approximately 42.7% ($86.6 million) of this region's total falls into the $20,000 & Over category. Again, the $1 - 999 category has the lowest amount of reported income with $0.05 million or 0.03%.

When considering the data from Tables 1 and 2 together, the following statements can be made regarding the total income of Manitoba tax filers aged 65 and over:

(1) The 21.4% of the filers in the $1 - 4,999 categories claim 5.8% of the total income.

(2) The 31.7% of the filers in the $5,000 - 9,999 categories claim 17.0% of the total income.

(3) The 18.1% of the filers in the $10,000 - 14,999 category claim 16.2% of the total income.

(4) The 28.4% of the filers in the $15,000 & Over categories claim 61.0% of the total income.

(5) The 17.9% of the filers in the $20,000 & Over category claim 47.7% of the total income of filers aged 65 and over.

EMPLOYMENT INCOME: FILER DISTRIBUTION

The distribution of filers aged 65 and over, by Employment Income and Economic Region, is presented in Table 3.

In all regions, over 80% of filers aged 65 and over have Zero or Negative employment income. For Manitoba, 86.8% (104,400 filers) fall into this category. The North region reports the greatest percentage without employment income at 91.8%. The South Central region reports the lowest percentage without employment income at 82.4%, followed by the Southwest and North Central regions, both at 83.5%.

Winnipeg has the highest number of filers with 67,934, of which 88.1% (59,817 filers) report Zero or Negative employment income. Of those reporting some employment income, 1,454 (2.1% of Winnipeg filers) fall into the $20,000 & Over category and 1,173 (1.7%) fall into the $2,500 - 4,999 category.

The second largest region, in terms of the number of filers, is the Southwest. Of the 15,706 filers in this region, 13,114 (83.5% of region filers) have Zero or Negative employment income. The next highest number of filers in this region, 530 (3.4%), report $2,500 - 4,999 employment income and 438 (2.8%) report employment income of $1 - 999.

The North region has 3,095 income tax filers for 1986, representing only 2.6% of Manitoba filers, making this the smallest region in terms of the number of filers. Approximately 91.8% of filers in the North region (2,842 filers) report Zero or Negative employment income.

The median for those having employment income varies considerably from one region to another. Winnipeg region has the highest average income with $7,019. The South Central follows with an average of $5,472 and the North Central ranks third with an average of $4,989. The lowest average income is found in the Parklands with $3,603.

For all Manitoba filers aged 65 and over reporting employment income, the average (median) amount of employment income is $5,759. All regions, except Winnipeg have averages below this Manitoba figure.

DISTRIBUTION OF EMPLOYMENT INCOME

The distribution of Employment Income by Economic Region, for 1986 income tax filers aged 65 and over, is presented in Table 4.

Over one-half of the employment income for Manitoba is reported by filers in the $20,000 & Over category. Of the $158.3 million reported for employment income, $88.0 million (55.6%) is reported by filers in this income category. The $10,000 - 14,999 category makes the next greatest contribution to the Manitoba total, with $22.9 million or 14.5%. The smallest amount of income is found in the $1 - 999 category, which has $1.1 million or 0.7%.

The Winnipeg region accounts for $103.0 million, or 65.1% of the Manitoba total, most of which ($61.6 million or 59.8%) is reported by filers in the $20,000 & Over category. The $10,000 - 14,999 category makes the next greatest contribution to the region total, with $12.6 million or 12.2%. The smallest amount of income is found in the $1 - 999 category, which has $0.5 million or 0.5%.

The Southwest region accounts for the second greatest percentage of the Manitoba total at 12.5% ($19.8 million). Filers from the Southwest in the $20,000 & Over category report $8.7 million (43.9% of region total). The category $10,000 - 14,999 has the second greatest percentage for the Southwest (19.2%), while the smallest percentage is found in the $1 - 999 category (1.0%).

The following statements can be made regarding the employment income of Manitoba tax filers aged 65 and over when jointly considering the data in Tables 3 and 4:

(1) Only 15,846 (13.2%) tax filers in this age group report having employment income.

(2) The 46.5% (7,362 of 15,846) of the filers in the $1 - 4,999 categories claim 9.0% of the employment income.

(3) The 11.8% (1,871 of 15,846) of the filers in the $10,000 - 14,999 category claim 14.5% of the employment income.

(4) The 14.3% (2,259 of 15,846) of the filers in the $20,000 & Over category claim 55.6% of the employment income of filers aged 65 and over.

LABOUR FORCE INCOME: FILER DISTRIBUTION

The distribution of filers aged 65 and over, by Labour Force Income and Economic Region, is shown in Table 5.

For Manitoba, 86.4% of filers aged 65 and over report Zero or Negative labour force income. Therefore, only a small percentage of filers in each region report labour force income in any of the income categories shown in Table 5.

In all regions, more than 80% of filers aged 65 and over have Zero or Negative labour force income. The North region has the greatest percentage falling in this category with 91.2%. The Winnipeg and Southeast regions also have high percentages in this category with 87.6% and 87.0% respectively. Regions with relatively low percentages of filers in this category are, the South Central at 82.1% and the North Central and Southwest at 83.2%.

For the North region, the highest numbers of filers fall into the $1 - 999 category (60 filers or 1.9%) and the $2,500 - 4,999 category (46 filers or 1.5%).

For the South Central region, the highest numbers of filers fall into the $1 - 999 category (292 filers or 3.0%) and the $2,500 - 4,999 category (189 filers or 2.9%).

In Winnipeg, the highest numbers of filers fall into the $20,000 & Over category (1,476 filers or 2.2%) and the $1 - 999 category (1,242 filers or 1.8%).

Average (median) labour force incomes vary considerably among the eight regions. The highest average is reported for Winnipeg at $6,813, with South Central second at $5,414 and North Central third at $4,934. The Parklands region, with an average income of $3,520, has the lowest average labour force income of any region.

All regions, with the exception of Winnipeg, have average (median) labour force incomes less than the Manitoba average of $5,627.

DISTRIBUTION OF LABOUR FORCE INCOME

For the distribution of Labour Force Income by Economic Region, as reported by 1986 income tax filers aged 65 and over, see Table 6.

Manitoba Labour force income, for filers aged 65 and over, totals $161.0 million for 1986. Approximately 55.3% ($89.0 million) of the total is reported by filers in the $20,000 & Over category. A further 14.4% ($23.3 million) is reported by filers in the $10,000 - 14,999 category.

The North region accounts for $2.5 million in labour force income. This amount represents the lowest percentage of any region, at 1.5% of the Manitoba total. Of the $2.5 million from the North, 55.6% ($1.4 million) falls into the $20,000 & Over category. Only 1.2% ($0.03 million) of the North region's labour force income is reported from the $1 - 999 category.

The Parklands and North Central regions report the next lowest labour force incomes with $5.9 million (3.6% of the Manitoba total) and $6.0 million (3.7%) respectively. For the Parklands region 39.1% ($2.3 million) is reported in the $20,000 & Over category, and for the North Central region 48.9% ($2.9 million) is reported in the $20,000 & Over category.

Winnipeg accounts for $104.8 million labour force income, or 65.1% of the Manitoba total. Of the Winnipeg total, 59.5% ($62.3 million) falls into the $20,000 & Over category and only 0.5% ($0.5 million) falls into the $1 - 999 category.

From the data in Tables 5 and 6, the following statements can be made regarding the distribution of labour force income, among Manitoba tax filers aged 65 and over:

(1) Only 16,321 tax filers (13.6%) in this age group report having labour force income.

(2) The 47.1% (7,685 of 16,321) of the filers in the $1 - 4,999 categories claim 9.1% of the labour force income.

(3) The 11.7% (1,902 of 16,321) of the filers in the $10,000 - 14,999 category claim 14.4% of the labour force income.

(4) The 14.0% (2,292 of 16,321) of the filers in the $20,000 & Over category claim 55.3% of the labour force income of filers aged 65 and over.
